NeuroSleep — Partnership Overview

A short, honest version of the partnership ask.

Why Partner With NeuroSleep

An early-stage AI-adaptive sleep pillow concept, from a founder solving his own sleep problem. A real, growing market (~$34.7B in 2026, ~18% CAGR — Mordor Intelligence) and a worked-out product concept, but no prototype, patent, or team yet.

This is deliberately not framed as a proven, no-risk opportunity — it's a concept looking for the right technical partner to help make it real.

What I'm Looking For

- A technical co-founder or hardware/industrial design partner.
- A small manufacturer interested in co-developing, not just producing a finished design.
